About Us

Foamorder.com, an organic mattress manufacturing company, provides consumers with a safe and all natural, organic, alternative to traditional and posturepedic mattresses via its Natural Sense™ Foam product line.

Using all natural foam manufactured using sap from the rubber tree; Natural Sense foam mattresses also contain certified organic components including Pure Grow Wool and organic cotton batting. Furthermore, Natural Sense mattresses do not contain any "chemically treated barrier cloths" used to pass current fire retardant mattress requirements -- these organic mattresses pass naturally.

Lasting up to 30 years when properly encased, Natural Sense mattresses are also naturally resistant to bacteria, mildew and mold. Prices for a Queen sized mattress range from $1266 to $1671 and are available in soft, medium, medium-firm, and firm styles. The company ships most products free of charge to consumers in vacuum compressed packages.

Additionally, Foamorder.com works with some of the top brands and distributors nationwide to offer its products, including Natural Sense foam materials. Wholesale business relationships are intact with such business providers as upholsterers, interior designers, furniture manufacturers, and other industry distributors.

Foamorder.com provides its products and services direct to consumers through its two store locations in northern California (San Francisco and San Rafael) and via its Web site, www.foamorder.com. The Website provides ecommerce capabilities that allow for immediate quotes and detailed specifics for visitors to learn, compare and purchase the products that best suit their needs. Foamorder.com provides welcoming, friendly customer service representatives to handle inquiries on new and existing orders. In fact, it's not uncommon to speak with the owners directly or meet with them at the local storefronts or industry tradeshow.

The family-run company has roots in the upholstery business and started out as David Rostov Upholstery Supplies, Inc., which formed in 1950. With more than a half a century of family experience in the industry, Foamorder.com has grown to become THE premier resource for businesses and consumers to find the best selection of foam products available in the marketplace.

In support of a healthy environment, the company is committed to green technology advancements. The company's commitment is demonstrated by its handling of products – all shipments are compressed to take up the least amount of truck space necessary; the company does not sell any Styrofoam or related products; and customers are able to purchase completely recyclable product lines.

"Better for your home,
Better for your health."™

About Natural Sense™, manufactured exclusively by Foam Order

"Better for your home, better for your health"

Natural Sense is all-natural foam that is uniquely manufactured through a process that uses the sap from rubber trees. The sap from the trees is collected in a bucket, similar to the way maple syrup is collected from Maple trees. Natural Sense's inherent dynamic contouring properties make it ideal for mattresses, cushions, pillows, and much more. This special, high-density foam is naturally resistant to bacteria, mildew, and mold. At almost 6 lb/ft³, Natural Sense foam will last up to 30 years when properly encased.

FoamOrder.com's Natural Sense foam is 100 percent natural. It contains 97 to 99 percent natural tree sap and the remainder is composed of natural soaps and residuals from the manufacturing process. Therefore, the foam is apt to biodegrade in as fast as a couple of weeks when exposed to the elements, completely turning to dust.
